SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By Rex R. Blue, SCS

Grenada County farmers are now rapidly preparing their land for row crops. Proper row arrangement is very necessary to keep down erosion and to reduce soil losses on hill land. Good row arrangement is also essential on bottom land to prevent ponding and provide satisfactory drainage.

Arranging rows on the contour will do much to hold down soil losses and reduce runoff. Much of the water is infiltrated into the soil and stored for future use by the crops. A study of many fields abandoned because of erosion indicate that poor row arrangement and plowing up and down the hill was the major cause of the erosion.

Modern farming methods make it more essential that farmers practice contour tillage. In an effort to get longer rows, many farmers are disregarding the slope of the land. Tractor farming without taking into consideration the lay of the land will greatly speed up erosion and soil losses. Such losses will continue despite the use of cover crops of winter legumes if contour tillage is not practiced.

Terracing, contour cultivation, grassed waterways, and good grass use rotations not only will reduce erosion to a minimum but conserve water and increase crop yields more than enough to offset the cost of installing the practices.

Soil Conservation Service Personnel working with your local Soil Conservation district will be glad to assist you in setting up conservation practices on your farm.

Lions Club "Ladies Day" Is Friday; To Hear Guest Speaker

Robert G. Lang, president of the Grenada Lions Club, announces that the club members will bring their wives as honored guests to their regular noon day meeting Friday, May 15. This will be the first time a so-called "Ladies Day" meeting has been held by the Lions Club in Grenada.

For this special occasion the club has secured Mr. George H. Lehlitner, of New Orleans as guest speaker, who will talk on the subject, "Hawaii, U. S. A. and Statehood". Mr. Lehlitner is what one might call a "Louisianian" for he commutes daily from his Bay Saint Louis home to his wholesale business in New Orleans. Having lived near, or upon the sea his entire life it was but natural for him to volunteer for service with the Navy immediately after Pearl Harbor. He first became acquainted with Hawaii during wartime visits to the islands in command of the Navy's troop ship, "Rotomah". Mr. Lehlitner has made 2 post-war research visits to Hawaii and is well versed in the economic, political and commercial possibilities of these islands.

There will be Homecoming and an old fashion dinner on the ground at Spring Hill Baptist Church the 3rd Sunday in May, or this Sunday, 17th. Sermon will begin at 11 o'clock. Friends of the church are cordially invited to attend and bring a lunch.

"Boiled Down" P. M. A. News in Consolidated

Accumulated in our "copy" basket is a number of PMA news releases. For the past several weeks we have been awfully crowded, (also this week), hence are taking the liberty to boil down this information, giving a resume of stuff that pertains to this county and forgetting the rest.

28,506 tons of basic slag have been approved for Grenada County farmers. Purchase orders are available at the PMA office.

In another release wheat growers are urged to come AT ONCE to the PMA office, get their records straightened out, and get ready for the next crop. Since it so happens that no wheat is grown in this county, it is hardly necessary to put the rest of it in type.

Folks have got to start getting ready on cotton quotas right away. People are informed in another long-winded piece.

Another release tells us that price support on upland cotton for 1953 has been set at 30.80 cents a pound. Growers are advised to plant only 5 acres this year for each six acres planted in 1952.

In these four releases reviewed, there is a lot of other words but few of them are applicable locally.

Grenada Hospital's 30th; Dr. Avent's 58th Birthday's Celebrated — Gala Occasion

Sincere expressions of admiration, love and good wishes were made to Dr. J. K. Avent, Sr. Saturday, Grenada Hospital Day on the 30th anniversary of the hospital and the 58th birthday of Dr. Avent.

State and county notables were either present on the platform or sent greetings on this occasion which attracted hundreds of white and colored to the hospital lawn.

Rev. W. Taylor Clarke, pastor of the 1st Presbyterian Church, was toast master. "An institution is but the shadow of the man behind it," Rev. Clarke said. "You cannot think of one without the other."

Rev. A. L. O'Brian, chaplain of the hospital, invoked blessings on the hospital, staff and many other people and things.

Among the many ministers introduced was Rev. Andrew Brown, Negro, who celebrated his 98th birthday, Sunday, May 10.

Dr. R. A. Clanton, mayor of Grenada, said he rejoiced in the success Dr. Avent and the hospital have accomplished.

Dr. Felix J. Underwood, director of the State Board of Health, congratulated Dr. Avent on his birthday and the successful operation of the hospital for 30 years. Dr. Underwood said, "I have watched your career with much admiration and pride. In medical and surgical skills and in civic leadership, you are a genius."

At this time, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitaker were called to the platform by Rev. Clarke and presented with a Sunbeam Cofferbox from the Avents in commemoration of the Whitaker's 35th wedding anniversary.

J. H. Oliver, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said, in part, "I rejoice with all of you in what this hospital is doing for the relief of mankind. Dr. Avent is uniting his efforts to relieve suffering humanity."

Mrs. Benton Gaston, state president of the Women's Hospital Auxiliary, congratulated Dr. Avent on his birthday and read a most appropriate poem. She expressed appreciation from the State Auxiliary for Dr. Avent's years of service to humanity.

A letter of greetings from Dr. W. L. Jaquith, director of the Miss. State Hospital at Whitfield, endorsed Dr. Avent as "exemplifying all the attributes of the great physician." He commended Dr. Avent especially for his great interest in the contribution towards mental health in Mississippi.

Greetings from Mr. and Mrs. McCune Talbert were then read.

Mrs. Edith Salguero, director of the Grenada Hospital Nursing School, was introduced.

MRS. B. S. ELLIOTT, 98, DIES IN GREENWOOD

This Fine Old Lady Almost Reaches Century Mark

Mrs. B. S. Elliott, widow of the late B. S. Elliott of Holcomb, died in the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. L. Powell in Greenwood Wednesday afternoon, May 13, 1953.

She, like her late husband, were natives of what afterwards became Montgomery County. About 40 years they moved to Holcomb, Grenada County, where the husband was once a member of the state legislature.

This estimable lady lacked only 2 years of witnessing an entire century pass, as she was 98 at the time of death.

Her grandsons bore her body to the grave in Sparta Cemetery after services in the Holcomb Methodist Church Thursday.

One son, James L. Elliott of Holcomb, and two daughters, Mrs. R. M. Ray of Holcomb, and Mrs. J. L. Powell of Greenwood, and several grandchildren survive.

SPORTSMAN COLUMN

(By C. C. Hamby, Sr.)

It rained this column out last week. It takes water for fish to swim in. Fishing should be extra good this season as all lakes and streams will be re-stocked.

The blue gills have really been taking roaches and small crawfish in all private ponds and lakes. There that went to other lakes have brought back some nice strings of blue gill and goggle eye. Otter, Von Kepin, Matthews Brake, Horse Shoe and Little Eagle lakes are in fine shape, and nice strings are being caught. Also Grassie. These lakes are also in fine shape for crappie fishing and some nice strings are being caught. The past week and up to this writing, Sardis Reservoir is in fine shape and limit catches of those slab crappie are being caught.

ool was introduced. Mrs. A. N. Rayburn, president of the Grenada Hospital Women's Auxiliary whose members were greatly instrumental in the success of the day and who sponsored the day, made a fine speech, commending Dr. Avent's good work and on behalf of the auxiliary presented him with an insignia of the American College of Surgeons.

Cowles Horton, Grenada attorney, introduced J. P. Coleman, attorney general of Mississippi and the main speaker for the occasion.

Mr. Horton introduced Mr. Coleman as a gentleman, as a Christian, and as an intelligent neighbor and friend. He reminded the audience that Mr. Coleman had served Grenada and surrounding counties as district attorney and as circuit judge before being appointed to the State Supreme Court and to his present position as attorney general.

Atty. Gen. Coleman reviewed his associations with Grenada County, Grenada Hospital and Dr. J. K. Avent. Sr. He had an operation for acute appendicitis here in 1941 and in the hospital his only child, now a 12 year old boy, was born. Laughter broke out as he recalled that Dr. Hill told him to let him have the baby in his arms three months old and he could turn him out into the fields to start plowing.

He said, "I have a second home on earth it is Grenada County. He continued, 'How fortunate that I had good people of Grenada County should have this fine hospital and this fine doctor.'

He repeated the process of medicine, stating that there were 17 hospitals in the U. S. in 1873 and there are now 4,832.

He told the audience that they were lucky that their hospital was operated as a matter of private responsibility rather than as a matter of public liability.

He said that in his home county of Choctaw, the citizens were having to issue bonds and put taxes in order to have a hospital erected. How fortunate you are here in Grenada that someone was willing to take that burden from you. Dr. Avent's hospital is a good example of free enterprise. This hospital is a monument to the fact that we don't need socialism in this country," he said.

Mr. Coleman listed the many responsibilities which Dr. Avent has undertaken, including service on the State Mental Board and the State Board of Health.

Just prior to Dr. Avent's speech his grandsons, Ivan Kiri Bass and James Kiri Avent III, unveiled an oil portrait, painted in Italy, of Dr. Avent which will hang in the hospital.

Dr. Avent, visible moved by the many expressions of love and appreciation, made the final speech.

He said in part, "You all are not talking about me, you are talking about the God principle in me. I hope that spark will grow in me and in each one of you."

"I could never have picked a better place to live. The people of Grenada and Grenada County are a super race, both white and colored. The accomplishments of this house of healing could not have been done without the cooperation of the people of this area."

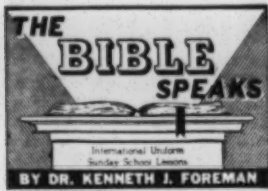

"Why has anything been accomplished? This reason it is by humble prayers of my parents and other good people. These prayers give me the assurance that God is molding and directing me. I love sick people, both mentally and physically sick. The rest of the life I have belongs to you people here. All I ask is continued prayer. God's hand in leading me and guiding me. I ask no more."

Rev. Felix A. Sutphin, pastor of the Methodist Church, gave the benediction and lead in the singing of "God Be With You Until We Meet Again."

Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served by members of the Hospital Auxiliary from a beautifully decorated table. The table, covered with an imported outwork linen cloth, was centered with the white cake, embellished with red roses and one red candle. On either side of the cake were two maypoles from which ribbons of red and white streamed. At the end of the ribbons were miniature May baskets of red and white flowers.

Hundreds of flowers and gifts were on display, attesting to the high regard in which Dr. Avent is held by his many friends and ex-patients.

On the platform were all the ministers and doctors of Grenada County, including Dr. L. L. Rayford, Negro physician. Special guests were two of Dr. Avent's brothers: A. H. Avent and P. E. Avent, both of Oxford.

End Of The World

Lesson for May 17, 1953

THE first part of the New Testament to be put into writing was not any one of the gospels; it was an epistle. Which one, is not absolutely certain; but it may very well have been the pair of letters Paul wrote to the Thessalonians. There is much too much in them for all of it to be put into one Sunday school lesson. One thing certainly seems very modern: the Thessalonians, and perhaps Paul too, were under the impression that their times were the last times. The end of the world seemed to be right around the corner. That was nearly 2,000 years ago. But what with the A-bomb and now the H-bomb, it looks as if this ancient fear might not be off-center at all nowadays. If it is worth while to think—What if this year 1953 really is the last chapter in history?

God Has His Plans

One thing does seem clear from the Bible, whatever else people may quarrel about: The end of the world will be brought about by God, not man. It is quite possible, as the most distinguished scientists tell us, that any one H-bomb will totally and instantly destroy life in a circle of 300 square miles.

But this earth is a large one, and there aren't enough H-bombs to carpet the whole place. The civilized nations, so-called, may blow each other off the map; but there will be a lot of uncivilized ones left that don't have money for H-bombs and couldn't even spell the word. "Civilization as we know it" can be destroyed by man; but not the heavens and the earth. This is not to call the H-bomb a trifle; its use would be the most colossal evil ever devised at one stroke by mankind. But while the use of it might well be the last chapter for all readers of this paper, there are people who can't read (in Patagonia for instance) who would scarcely know the thing had been dropped. When God is ready to bring the whole story of man to an end, he will do it. Men will not.

Suppose This Is It?

St. Francis of Assisi, such a universal Christian that both the Roman Catholic church and the Salvation Army have claimed him for their own, was once asked, while he was hoeing in the garden, "What would you do if you knew the world was coming to an end this afternoon?" His answer was: "I would go on and finish this hoeing." Paul had to deal with this problem in the Thessalonian church. His first letter to them got them to thinking the end of all things must be right around the corner. So a good many of them decided there wasn't any use in working any more. They quit their jobs, they sat around or visited one another's homes and all they talked about was, "When will it be?" Paul's advice (besides telling them the end was not as near as they thought) was to get jobs and stay on them. It was to these people that he made his famous remark, "If any one will not work, let him not eat." (II Thess. 3:10.) Suppose the end of all things is really near? Suppose Christ came in glory to your town before Sunday? Which would be better to be found just sitting around, or steadily doing whatever duty might be yours at the time?

The End of the World

After all, what does the "end of the world" mean, practically? It means that you and the world part company; it vanishes before your eyes. Whatever world you exist in from that moment on, it will not be this one. Now it makes small difference whether the world folds up and leaves you, or whether you fold up and leave the world. One thing is sure: whichever way it is, you and this world, this world of day and night, of sin and suffering and saintliness, this world of animals, vegetables and minerals—you and this world are going to part company, and you are going to live long enough to see that day. The big question is not the nearness or the farness of that day. The question is: What are you going to put into the time between now and then? If you will look around you, you will see many evidences that those who went before you made wise plans and did good deeds not only for their own time but for yours as well.

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:20

I was talking over the phone the other night to my favorite cousins in Los Angeles and they could not understand how the hell I got by calling folks g-d-republicans and g-d-yankies. One reason, I guess, is that I am "at home" here. At least I THINK I am at home here since it is a fact that six generations of a very small family have lived here.

A lotta folks have been here a long time. I know the Whitakers were among the first who came. My great grandfather, William H. Whitaker, for whom my father was named, moved here from North Alabama in the 1820s. He owned all of the west side of the puny square of the small struggling village, Grenada. He owned where the county court house now stands, but sold it to one of his sons-in-law, Judge McLean, who used the lot for his family home. One of the old man's sons, George Whitaker, used the spot now occupied by the Trust Bank as a "confectionery." Yes, I guess I am "at home" in Grenada. When I left the old Grenada Sentinel, somebody asked me where I was going. I answered, hell I ain't going nowhere. I am "at home", and that's exactly how I feel about Grenada. I am "at home" here and, maybe, that's why I get by with many things for which a foreigner or stranger would be driven from town.

Feeling sorter reminiscent and philosophic, I am reminded of what Dr. Rayford said a preacher said: don't be hard on the fellow who is down because you may meet that same fellow going up when you yourself are going down.

I think I should say a kind word for my preacher - Brother Clarke of my church - the Presbyterian Church. Hearing him as master of ceremonies at Dr. Avent's birthday party, I am bound to say Clarke is a mighty glib talker and, I am sure, a very profound speaker in the pulpit. I think he would be even better if he read the GCW regularly.

The adjective, "glib", used above was intended as a compliment. I used a duplex word, "gdyankee", last week nad got in dutch about it.

I sorter feel that W. B. Theisman of The Plant, S. C. Hardiman of Route 1 and R. T. James of Route 4 are wearing their eyes down looking for their names. Here they are.

All paid up sady.

"When you are so crowded, why don't you get our MORE pages?" we are frequently asked. That solution is easy to SAY, but hard to DO. We TRY to do, as that placard in Grenada Bank advises "the best you can with what you have", and I guess that answers it. I don't know whether that sign is still there. It was there once and I saw it once and its implications have stuck with me many years - to do the best you can with what you have. That's about all a mule can do - the best he can with what he has.

I finally got a hold of my REAL domino partner sady and we beat our opponents, one a big shot telephone fellow and another a farmer and planter named Max Yeager, 6 straight games.

I don't know when I was gladder to see anyone than I was the other

ELM SAPLING FELS JAMES TRAVIS, NEGRO

Rochester Neal and James Lee Hamilton, Negroes of Beat 5, Ox-berry community are being held in the Grenada County Jail, pending the outcome of James Travis, Negro, who has been unconscious several days in the Grenada Hospital.

Sheriff Speck Davis who arrested Neal and Hamilton said Travis was found unconscious Sunday morning in front of Rev. Will Harbin's home "on the bayou."

Travis sustained a cracked skull and the weapon which inflicted this damage was a five foot elm sapling. Rev. Harbin said that he heard the commotion in front of his house but didn't intercede.

Dorothy is fixing to leave Grenada soon, so Mabel and I are figuring on being away from town, off seeing things for a week or ten days. With Andrew and Dorothy here and air mail getting back, nobody will know we are gone. Dorothy keeps our books. I told her to get out statements of the FEW past-due accounts (including subscriptions) so that, if there is any error, anywhere, she can get everything straightened out so that her successor will have a clean record. I am not trying to get in a pile of money - just getting errors, if any, rooted out of the records.

Folks who don't know in their hearts that qualified Negroes will be voting freely in this community in a very, very few years, are somewhat blind. If it ain't right to do right to Negroes, it is what I would call the sensible thing to do. There is no further legal impediment in the way of Negroes to the polls today. It won't be long, as time goes, before they will be at the polls just like we white folks are. Way ahead of time I told you about this school business. I'm telling you now about this voting business. Put this paragraph under your hat band and keep it.

Speck Davis said a heap of Davis' set together for a service at the graves of their grandparents in Calhoun County, Sunday.

Elsewhere in this issue is an announcement of the formal opening of the power company's handsome district office on Main Street in Grenada. The power company is growing and so is Grenada. The two will go up, or down, together. The town and the company have common interests.

Uncle Nan Staten at Ocherry was taught to "cuss" to much" rain by his daddy, grand daddy, all his brothers and neighbors and I'll bet the habit is so strong that he is cussing about "too much rain" now, even though he has changed from a grass-kicker to a grass-user. He almost went busted killing grass and got on the feet again using grass, and grass is a direct product of rain.

I fear that Mr. Lehlstner, who speak of the advantages of making Hawaii a state at the Lion's Club Ladies Day Luncheon Friday noon, is consequently or unconsciously, that of some selfish interests who want this remote island chain, 3,000 miles from the mainland, a part, good or bad, of continental United States. I appreciate the invitation to hear him but cannot as I will be out of town. I just don't think Hawaii should be made a state. Carrying "messages to the sticks" is an old custom.

Dr. Claud Walston, Grenada's only colored dentist, took out a subscription recently. He was born and raised here, finished at the Grenada colored school, at Alcorn and got his dental training in the Nashville medical college for colored boys. I believe it is Mahaffey (any way, the college that Dr. Rayford attended). His office is on Oak Street, behind the court house, and, if he looks after his knitting, as he should, he will fill a long-felt need in this community.

Speaking of anniversaries, time is getting close to the 37th anniversary of the graduation of the GHS class of 1906. In some respects it is an unusual graduating class. In the first place there were only 3 in the class: Margaret Hughes Trusty, Amie Weir Rodebaugh, and Whyte Whitaker. In the next place, it is unusual that 23 of them are still alive. In the next place, all are living in this county, none over six miles from the other. I see Margaret every few days, but have not seen Amie since we graduated in 1906, ever though she lives out East of here in this county.

Somebody left a fancy parasol in our office. And, by the way, Mabel said Mrs. J. H. Oliver had the prettiest parasol in Grenada. The one left here was not hers.

At closing time Monday, it looked as if we will have some room for editorials this week. God knows what will happen before Thursday. We MAY have to turn down late-coming ads like we did last week. Something DID happen.

Congratulations to O. R. Gunter who has received recognition from Roy Adams, state highway commissioner, for 20 years of faithful service to the department.

Most of the local Kiwanians of Grenada attended a big district today in Greenville Tuesday. Preacher Clarke, a Rotarian, went along to speak.

C. OF C. SEEK PARKS FOR DAM AREA

The Reservoir Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has initiated action which may lead to the establishment of two beautiful state parks in the Grenada Reservoir area.

At a meeting of the committee Wednesday, the members went on record favoring asking the State Park Board to establish a park for white people in the area known as

BY FRED ROBINSON

It is probably not too difficult for a man to rise upon the wings of patriotic zeal to a point where he may give his life in sacrifice for a great cause or movement, especially if he is accompanied by others of like mind, but when one must go it alone it is surely not easy on the heart-strings. One reason the solo flights across the Atlantic by Charles Lindbergh in 1927 so deeply impressed the world is that he went it alone, requiring lots more nerve than if at least one more person had accompanied him. The Scripture says, "It is not good that man should be alone" and perhaps this thought prompted the painting of the most desolate picture we have ever seen which was a solitary man standing on a mountain peak in the frozen north country eagerly watching the rising sun. We recently read a little news story of a young man going to his death in a crippled plane and I think the part that hurt us so much was that he was so alone. The story told of an aviation mechanic who thought it would be fun to stow-away in one of the large planes the crew was taking on a test flight and he probably would have come out of hiding after the trip got underway, but he never knew one of the engines exploded causing the plane to become unmanageable and the pilot ordered all ten crew members to bail out and himself followed to let the crippled plane soar away into the big blue yonder finally to crash into bits while poor little Roger Rondenau trustfully rode it alone to his death. That's tragedy without plan, design or poetical purpose.

Faces in our memories . . . in our Sunday School lesson we discussed faces that haunted the great mission ary, Paul, Paul, then Saul, never could forget the face of Stephen, one of the first Christian martyrs as the irate and misguided Jews stoned him to death. Then of course Paul always remembered the face of Jesus as He spoke to him on the Damascus Road, and then the face of the Macedonian who begged him to come over in that country and preach.

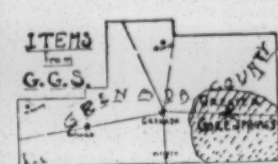

Faces . . . in our memories . . . they give us strength and guidance and compel the trend of our thinking. Once a young girl ran away from home and eluded all searchers . . . but they obtained a number of pictures of her mother and placed them in places where they knew the girl would sooner or later see them and these three little words "Mary, come home" and sure enough lonely and repentant Mary saw her mother's picture in a window one night, and started straight home. More recently I have added another memory picture to my own long list . . . Mommy Long of Grenada. The last time I saw Mommy we sat and talked, and I perceived it would be the last time I'd see her thin and wrinkled face, so when leaving I surprised her with a kiss and that was goodbye. Babe Ruth once said, "Most of the people who have really counted in my life were not famous. Nobody ever heard of them except those who knew and loved them. I knew an old minister once. His hair was white; his face shone. I have written my name on thousands of baseballs in my life. He wrote his name on just a few simple hearts. How I envy him. I am listed as a famous homerunner, yet beside that obscure minister, who was so good and so wise, I never got to first base." Reverend Felix Sutphin - take over from there. Old Orchard Bay and for colored people in the Dam area known as Carver Bluff Area. Members of the committee are C. M. Stricklin, Rodney Defenbaugh, Fred Lickfold, Frank House and Marion Knight, U. S. Engineers, were made honorary members of the committee.

Another item of interest about the future uses of the Reservoir was announced in the "Future Farmers of America" magazine, April issue. A headline in the publication read: "Grenada Selected for N. Miss. F.F.A. Camp". However, F.F.A. officials say that the choice for the $50,000 camp still lies between Grenada, Tishomingo and Chickasaw counties.

Helen James of Edwards spent Mother's Day with Mr. and Mrs. Henry James.

Homecoming and Memorial Services

The annual homecoming and Memorial services were held in Gore Springs Church Sunday, May 10th, with the Pastor, Rev. J. W. Youngblood delivering the sermon. Prayers were said by Rev. James E. Richardson, pastor of Providence Church, and Rev. Gwin Middleton, pastor of Pleasant Grove Church.

Special music was rendered by Patricia Dye and Trusty accompanied by Polly Gray at the piano.

An unusually large number of people were present to greet friends and relatives and to place flowers on the graves of departed loved ones.

The cemetery itself was beautiful and appeared to be a living garden of flowers as the thousands of flowers nodded and swayed in the light breeze just as though they were gracefully greeting their guests.

Generous love offerings to the church and for the care of the cemetery were given at the close of the service.

Among the visitors present were: Mrs. Ida James, Charles Van Norman, Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm James, Mrs. Herbert James and daughter, Wayside; Mrs. Nola Simpson, Salis; Mr. Guy Fite, Charleston; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Fite and family, Tchula; Mrs. Ed Lewis, Tie Plant; Earl Tharpe, Greenwood; Mr. and Mrs. C. CHOICE AND VALUABLE PIECES

Vendors in ancient times featured wares of lesser value. Choice and valuable pieces were reserved for the man who knew enough to ask for them. In our business, such a practice would be bad indeed. One drug or formula may look exactly like another. The quality of a pharmaceutical can be discerned only by those trained in such matters. Responsibility for supplying high-quality pharmaceuticals rests entirely with the pharmacist. This is a responsibility which we shoulder with pride and profound integrity. Our attitude is that the sick and ailing need the finest medicinals obtainable.

That is the kind we always supply.

JITNEY-JUNGLE RECIPE OF THE WEEK!

BAKED FISH

(By Mrs. Sammie Bailey)

Gather together the following:
Salt, Butter, Two bay leaves for each fish, one cross-cut slice of lemon for each fish.

The amount of salt and butter depends on the size of the fish. One teaspoon of salt per pound is a good rule. There should be enough butter to fill the cavity in the fish. Put a bay leaf on each side, lay the slice of lemon on top. Wrap the whole thing securely in aluminum foil.

Allow about 30 minutes for baking at 375F.

"SEEN, HEARD AND TOLD BY THE EDITOR"

We cannot but speak the things which we have seen and heard. Acts 4:20

A lotta folks saw Mabel and me get a box as a present on our 35th wedding anniversary at the celebration of the birthday of the hospital and not of our anniversary which events, merely happened on the same date, a box that was presented in the name of the Avents, by Brother Clarke, the orator. Few folks, however, know what was in the box. The box contained a handsome aluminum contraption for making drip coffee. It was most unkind of one observer to say that Mabel deserved something for living with me 35 years. I think Brother Clarke wanted to say that, but he did not, you know how glib he is.

We don't profess to know what kind of difficulties Gordon Eberts in Winona had in the dissolution of his partnership but all of his friends in Grenada, including this writer, are happy that these difficulties, whatever they were, have been settled happily. I understand that a celebration was held in Winona Saturday night in the plant, not only to make happy about the amicable settlement but in honor of Gordon's birthday. Among other presents he received was one from an admirer in Duck Hill, a huge parcel covered with roses and smelling like roses on the outside, but smelling very unlike roses on the inside. May we add our good wishes and congratulations to him and to his wife.

I had better put Billy Horton's name in the paper, otherwise our most regular advertiser (as well as prompt-payer) may quit us. He almost leads the class composed of himself, Ellett Lawrence, Cliff Hamby, Sax Weir, Albert Cohen, and T. Darras, which says the GOW ain't worth a dam when their names don't appear in it.

On the whole I believe John Haxby, who is perhaps not our biggest advertiser, is the most considerate of our advertisers. His "copy" destined for Thursday, like that of the big national agencies, is "in" not later than Monday. On the other hand, if he does not desire an ad on Thursday, he spends two cents on a postal card to tell us so by Monday. Country newspapermen, who often have to get out the bloodhounds or the sheriff to get ad "copy" as many have to do, will, I know, appreciate John Haxby and the FEW like him. Billy Horton would be a joy to any publisher's heart. He has an ad every week. Every week, before publication, he pays for his ad.

More and more I am beginning to think of the feasibility of a reunion of the 1906 Class of GHS which consists of Margaret Trusty, Amie Weir Rodebough and me.

People are mighty nice about leaving young dogs at Oxberry more. Coot Little is about out of ammunition and asks his clients to tie ammunition around the dogs neck's.

Timetable FOR FREIGHT TRAINS

Chances are you seldom see a timetable like this.

For it is the timetable that rules the travels of shoes and cabbages—if not kings. If you build a house, buy a pound of sugar or a shirt or a baseball bat for Junior, these are the schedules for moving both raw materials and finished products.

Its figured columns mark the movement of freight trains. Here you will find the schedule of NC-2, the fastest dispatch freight between New Orleans and Chicago... of BC-4 whose whistle signals the time of day for many a farm family between Birmingham and Chicago... of CC-6, one of the parade of high-speed meat trains rolling daily from the West into Chicago... and SM-2 that moves freight swiftly from the West into the Southeastern states.

The fast freight schedules in these tables reflect improvements in track and signals and equipment that have cost the Illinois Central hundreds of millions of dollars in the past decade—improvements designed to bring you the finest transportation service in the history of Mid-America.

Chevrolet trucks must be the best buy!

CHEVROLET

This year—for the 12th straight production year—truck users are buying more Chevrolet trucks than any other make. That couldn't be true unless Chevrolet trucks offered more of what you want. Already, 1953's official sales figures tell a remarkable story of clear-cut and decisive preference for Chevrolet trucks. But, this is not surprising, for truck users everywhere are discovering how far ahead of all others—Chevrolet trucks really are.

They are discovering things like the tremendous new power in advanced Loadmaster engines in heavy-duty models... the remarkable gasoline economy... the extra ruggedness and strength of heavier, more rigid frame construction. And, in addition to all these advantages, the Chevrolet line lists for less than any other trucks of comparable size and capacity. So, before you buy any truck, stop in and see us.

SEEN, HEARD & TOLD BY THE EDITOR

Charging folks for their pictures in the paper is big-town stuff. Its like charging them for death notices, or marriage writeups or other "news." I think I would be safe in saying that we have 2 or 3 thousand dollars "invested" (not "spent") in cuts, and I doubt that we ever got back - in money, that is - over $7.00 from the lot, but we have got back a lot of "good will" which will "keep" longer than money.

I'll explain why we say "invested", rather than "spent" in cost of cuts. Recently, I had a good idea, or rather I thought it was a good idea. I thought Dr. Hill's part in the establishment of Grenada Hospital should be publicized. I wanted the article illustrated with his picture. But, fortunately, we did not have to run him down and get his photograph, then send it to Jackson to have a cut made. Rather, we went to our cut file, dug up his cut and used it again.

Above we have softer pried off one corner of the small system that even a small country newspaper, like the GCW, has.

Let's go back to Sgt. Patridge again. You know we said we had his picture in the GCW, then got his wife's subscription. This has happened in other cases and MAY happen in HIS case. He MAY become a permanent iron-clad subscriber. Then he will have children who, in turn, MAY take the GCW; then, He came up to see his old daddy, grandchildren. Don't you see what MAY happen, and HAS happened in other cases. Good will may not pay off sady night, but it will pay off up the road somewhere.

"Paying off far up the road" reminds me of a true story. I was running for supervisor in Beat 5 and ran into an old white man whom I never saw before or since. I have forgotten his name. He asked me aint you old man Alex Whitakers son. I told him no but I am his grandson. As a matter of fact grandpaw died at least 20 years before I was born. The old man in Beat 5 then told me a tale about grandpaw. It seems that his folks were po' folks living in the neighborhood while grandpaw was much better off. The mother in the po' family died. Old man Alex, he said, sent the po's family a coffin and a shroud. The story is ended by the old man assuring me he was going to vote for me, not because of anything I had done, could do, or would do, but because my grandfather, dead since 1871, had done a good deed. Grandpaw's good deed helped his grandson, whom he never saw, after a lapse of time of at least 50 years. See what I mean about good will lasting a long time.

And don't forget this: bad will lasts longer than good will. Watch yourself as you travel life's highway.

One of our beloved subscribers from Baton Rouge, C. B. Knight, dropped in to see me the other day, as many of our out-of-town subscribers do when they are in Grenada.

Lon Knight, of Little Texas, who has been ill in the Greenwood hospital. C. B. is a big, husky fellow who shows that his mama fed him mighty well when he was growing up, and he has made good in Louisiana.

Earline Carpenter of Denton, Tex. as wrote in that he (she) wanted to get the GCW. She did, and is. I went over to the Clinic to ask Mrs. Honey cutt - a Carpenter - about this new subscriber and got the information that Earline was not one of her but a young lady who once worked here at the telephone office. The GCW Gets Around.

Grenada folks have really got in the big-time news recently. For example, Sunday's Commercial Appeal had a feature story of Dr. Lena Warner (the former Lena Angevin Warner of Grenada County) who was the first nurse in the then young Army Nurse Corps. She was aunt of the Angevins and Weirs of this community.

BROILED DINNER

Broiled Hamburger Dinner—A broiler meal is easy to prepare because it's cooked at once and takes only a few minutes' time. This broiled dinner consists of ground beef patties, brushed with barbecue sauce before broiling, tomato halves sprinkled with grated cheese, and potato wedges. Round out the menu with a tossed salad, hot rolls, iced tea, fresh fruit in season and little cakes.

To prepare broiled hamburger dinner: Season 1 pound ground chuck or hamburger with 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Shape into patties. If desired add chopped onion, or garlic salt to the mixture. Brush with barbecue sauce, chili sauce or catsup. Arrange on broiler rack and broil 6 minutes on each side for medium done, 8 minutes for well done. To prepare tomatoes for broiling, cut in half, season with salt and pepper and sprinkle with grated cheese. Place on broiler rack when hamburgers are turned. Partially cook quartered large potatoes, brush with butter or margarine. Lay on broiler tray with hamburgers when they are put in to broil.

on red fin minnows and goldfish, fishing in shallow water around the banks in Clear Creek. Dry Branch, Bolbo Hollow, Rykes Hollow, Hamb Hollow, Cutler Hollow, Several, and I mean lots of those slabs by the limit are being caught.
